

2000 LIVES LOST IN SHIP'S WRECK

IF LOSS IS LARGE AS REPORTED DISASTER WILL MARK NEW RECORD IN ANALS OF SEA.

By the Associated Press

Archangle, Russia, Friday, Oct. 10.—Two thousand lives have been lost in the wreck of an unnamed British vessel on the Norwegian coast according to a wireless dispatch received here from Helsingfors. If the loss of life in the wreck reported in the foregoing dispatch is as large as indicated, the disaster will make a new record in the annals of the sea. It would seem probable that the ship which was wrecked was a military transport bringing British soldiers from Archangle, from which port Great Britain has been sending large numbers of men during the last month. The largest recorded loss of life in a marine disaster occurred when the Titanic was sunk after colliding with an iceberg south of Newfoundland on April 14, 1912, the list of deaths showing 1,503 names. The Lusitania sunk by a German submarine May 7, 1915, carried down with her more than 1,200 of her passengers and crew. When the Empress of Ireland was sent to the bottom in Gulf of St. Lawrence on May 30, 1914, the loss of life was 1,027.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Neither the admiralty nor Lloyd's have received any information relative to the wreck of a British ship on the Norwegian coast. At both of these sources the report is discredited.

WILSON SHOULD HAVE WOMAN M.D.

FEMALE PHYSICIAN THINKS SHE COULD CURE THE PRESIDENT; WOMEN DOCTORS "KNOW MORE."

By Zoe Beckley.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—"Let the doctors admit some well known woman physician to their consultations and they would arrive much more quickly at the nature and cure of President Wilson's illness."

This suggestion was made to me today by Dr. Elizabeth Honore Bone of Portchester Terrace, Hyde Park, who is said to have the largest trade of all the woman doctors who have been lifted to fame, fortune and scientific recognition in London during the war.

I had noticed that London was almost as much concerned about the president's illness as the cities at home must be. I see people in business reading about it in the news columns, then turning eagerly to the long editorials regarding it which the papers carry daily. I hear comments on it in hotel lobbies, at theatres, in department stores and wherever I go. There is much speculation as to the exact nature of the attack which terminated the president's speech-making tour. And a lot of headshaking over the announcement that it is some sort of "nerves." London understands and sympathizes with "nerves." For five years any kind of nerve trouble from shell shock to plain worry has needed no explanation.

Dr. Bone insists that neurology is the woman physician's true sphere and that therefore a woman specialist should be among the consultants at the president's bedside.

"Women have a peculiar gift for seeing the causes of nerve disorders," says Dr. Bone. "Some call it intuition. In hospital slang we call it 'twiggling.' It is really a sort of sixth sense; independent of other senses."

"About nine-tenths of the diagnosis in neurological cases has to do with things outside the patient's bodily condition. For example, I have known hysteria to be caused by the wallpaper and furnishings of a room. A man doctor would never dream it was the cause of the trouble, but a woman would figure it out."

"I am not so silly as to say your president can be cured by some woman doctor walking in and ordering the furniture changed about or beseeching the American public to view more sympathetically the league of nations."

"But I do say that women make the best neurologists and that a consultation of physicians of both sexes would be a splendid thing if prejudice could be set aside."

EMMA GOLDMAN IN REFORMER ROLE

ANARCHIST LEADER PROPOSES TO START REFORM OF THE MISSOURI STATE PENITENTIARY.

By News' Special Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Just out of federal prison, Emma Goldman proposes to start a movement to reform treatment of women sent to Missouri state penitentiary at Jefferson City. Goldman makes no complaint of her own treatment while serving a term for anti-war propaganda. She says she was shown the utmost consideration.

"I trust that my protest against the cruel treatment accorded the unfortunate women in this prison will awaken the American people to the grim fact that in their own country and in the 20th century, slavery exists in its most terrible form," she says.

"A foreman, a boy of 21, who began in the art of slavedriving at the age of 16, bullies and terrorizes the women, holding the club of the blind cell and bread and water over them. The vilest language is used toward women, some of them old enough to be this young man's mother."

Task is Impossible.
"It is utterly impossible to keep up the required speed day after day to make the task the prison authorities demand. The working hours are nine hours, but to complete the task, the women are driven to the sweat shop method of taking the work to their cells in the evening."

"The contract system is supposed to have been abolished, but I have evidence that overall, jackets and suspenders from the Jefferson City prison are sold to private concerns in every state in the union. I intend to turn this evidence over to the labor organizations and to the department of labor. 'Lilah Smith is in charge of the women prisoners. She has been employed in penal institutions since she was 15. Not once in 30 months did I hear her address one kind or encouraging word to a prisoner."

"Flogging is supposed to have been abolished in Missouri, but vigorous slapping and cuffing of helpless charges still goes on."

"Women who cannot perform the required task thru weakness or ignorance are punished. Sometimes they are locked in their cells over the week-end on bread and water, sometimes they are confined for days in the blind cell with one blanket and two pieces of bread and two cups of water a day to sustain them."

Treatment is Fatal.
"One woman who had been ill and unable to make the task was locked up on bread and water for 19 days, then fed a heavy pork dinner on Thanksgiving day. She became unconscious and was removed to her cell where forcible feeding was attempted. She died. 'Influenza' was given as the cause of her death. 'Since this incident, women are not kept in the blind cell more than three days."

TWELVE HUNDRED WAR TRUCKS SOLD

TAKEN FROM GERMANY AS ARMISTICE MATERIAL AND THEN SOLD BACK TO THEM.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Twelve hundred motor trucks abandoned by the German army in the area taken over by the Americans as part of the armistice material were sold recently to a syndicate of German automobile dealers. This deal virtually completes the work of the Coblenz branch of the United States Liquidation Commission which has been under the direction of Junius G. Adams, of Asheville, N. C., special commissioner of the American Army of Occupation.

Continuation of disposal of surplus army material in occupied Germany will hereafter be under the direction of a general sales board of the American Forces in Germany which Lieutenant Colonel T. H. Kruttschnitt has been appointed as chief. The army board will be under the supervision of the liquidation commission with head quarters in Paris until the final stocks are sold.

The sale of surplus property of the American army at the Antwerp base which also has been completed brought to the government $11,000,000, most of the goods disposed of to the Belgian government, bringing a better price than could have been obtained in the United States.

By the sale of a part of surplus stocks of the American Forces in Germany, much of which was sold to German civilians, the sum of $11,000,000 was realized. Among the material sold recently to German dealers was 2,000,000 pounds of candy of a kind not particularly in demand among the American soldiers.

BOLD ROBBERY NEAR MEMPHIS

By the Associated Press

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11.—Five men who boarded southbound passenger train No. 35 of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad as it was leaving the Memphis yards this morning, held up the express messenger and his helper, secured several express packages and escaped when the train was stopped at West Junction in response to a telephone message from the yardmaster who saw the men board the train.

When the train was stopped, the messenger and his assistant were found lying on the floor bound. One of the packages reported missing was said to have been shipped by a Memphis jewelry house.

Posses were organized quickly and began a search of the surrounding section.

West Junction is on the outskirts of the city and about four miles from the yards where the men boarded the train.

THE BIG GIFT DAY AT NAPIER SCHOOL A SUCCESS

Every encouragement possible should be given this school on the part of the public, as a product of this school in the future will be an asset in the community in which the pupil may live. WHY "REDS" WON WORLD'S SERIES GERMAN FORCES CAPTURE ALL RIGA

JOHNNY EVERS SAYS THAT THE "REDS" ARE CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD—AND DESERVE THE SAME.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Pat Moran's Reds are the champions of the world and they deserve to be.

The better club won in the annual post season classic. Luck was no factor in their victory.

Most people picked the White Sox to win on the strength of paper averages. I was among the few who predicted that the Reds would win. Pitching is of primary importance in a world series and in this department the Reds were admitted by all to be superior. Their batting on paper was inferior to that of the White Sox.

But while I don't say the pitching in the national league is better than in the American, there are more good pitchers in the national than in the White Sox league.

Collectively, the White Sox have no apparent weakness. They were a great slugging club and derived the greatest advantage from a staff of small but high class pitchers. But after following them it was plain there were individual faults in the club.

Reds Were Smartest.

The Sox outfielded and outthrew the Sox throught and were smarter on the bases. Cincinnati's season's play proved it to be a game one-inning club. This was apparent during the series.

Before the series Roush was the only Red player generally believed to be superior to the Chicago player in his position. But in the series every one of the Cincinnati regulars except Groh outshone his opponent.

At first base Daubert outplayed Gandil and made his bat more valuable. At second base Morris Rath pulled one of the biggest surprises of the series by his hitting. His fielding also was superior to that of the highly rated Sox star.

Kopf's work at shortstop bordered on the sensational. He outclassed Risberg in the field and at the bat.

Weaver Beat Groh.
Contrary to expectations, Buck Weaver had a comfortable shade over Heinie Groh at third base. Groh played remarkable ball in the first few games but fell off toward the end of the series.

John Collins, who played right field in part of the games for the Sox, ranked on a par with Earle showed better than Nemo Leibold. Eddie Roush stands alone in center field. His work showed him to be one of the greatest players in the game.

Duncan was one of the stars of the game. He held his own with the great Joe Jackson, considering the fact that the Cincinnati youngster was making his first start in an important series.

Ray Schalk is one of the greatest catchers in the game, but in this series both Rariden and Wingo outplayed him.

Kerr was the bright star of the White Sox pitching staff, tho worlds of credit must be given to the game Eddie Cicotte came back and won after two defeats. Hod Eller was a particular star of the Red staff but all of Moran's pitchers did high class work.

COAL MINERS AND THE OPERATORS CAN'T AGREE

By the Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 11.—The conference of bituminous coal miners and operators in session here considering the demands of the miners for a sixty per cent increase in wages and a reduction in working hours disagreed today and will adjourn. A sub-committee that had been considering the demands, claiming that it could not agree, reported the deadlock condition to the general conference which began its sessions here yesterday and recommended final adjournment.

Unless something happens in the meantime to prevent it the leaders of the mine workers say that the strike threatened for Nov. 1 will take place.

Operators have declared they cannot concede either of the demands of the workers.

The mines affected are in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. More than 300,000 men are involved.

PEOPLE WAIT ANXIOUSLY CONFIRMATION OF NEWSPAPER REPORT THAT RIGA HAS BEEN TAKEN.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Confirmation of a newspaper report that German forces have captured Riga is being awaited here, but if the disparity in the rival forces is as great as reported in some dispatches, the success of the attack on the Baltic port would not be surprising.

"Germany's new war" is featured in the morning newspapers but the reports printed here have added nothing of importance to the dispatches received by the Associated Press. The whereabouts of General Von der Goltz continues to be the subject of contradictory rumors and the estimates of the size of the army commanded by Colonel Avaloff-Bermot also show a wide difference.

It is recalled that Count Keller, commander of a large force in the Baltic provinces which was recruited from German troops, left by the Allies at the time of the armistice is a Baltic baron and formerly a general in the Russian army.

Interest here now is largely focused in the result obtained from the note which the supreme council of the peace conference is reported to be sending to Berlin today demanding the withdrawal of German troops from the Baltic provinces under a threat of coercive measures from the Allies.

A.H.S. TAKES THE SECOND GAME EASY

TROTS AWAY WITH HOLDENVILLE BY A 13 TO 0 SCORE. WET GROUND KEPT SCORE DOWN.

The High school football lads returned from Holdenville last evening with a 13 to 0 victory tagged on behind. The Holdenville boys proved staunch antagonists, but they were unable to stop the mighty plunges of Crawford and Cunningham and the lightning-like darts and sprints of Mallory, Fentem and Derrick. The Ada line held firmly, not cracking in the entire sixty minutes of play.

Ada's two touchdowns came in the third quarter. Derrick, playing halfback, shot a forward pass to Fentem, the midget quarterback, and Fentem plunged over the line for a touchdown. The attempt to kick goal failed.

In the same quarter the backs carried the ball down the field, mostly on line plunges, Crawford taking most of the hard heaving on himself. Towards the last of the quarter, Cunningham replaced Crawford at fullback and dived through the line for the second counter of the day.

The Holdenville lads did not seriously threaten the Ada goal, though time after time they showed good football. The ground was heavy and a cold, wet wind made good football difficult.

Ada's next game is here with the same team next week.

To Get Rid of Paint Stains.

Paint spilled on a doorstep is most unsightly, and is often rather difficult to remove. In that case make a strong solution of potash and wash the step, leaving the solution to soak in. In a short time the paint will become soft and can be washed off with soap and water. Then use cold water. Paint which has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

Dividing Honors With Street Suits

The "all-day dress" appears to have come to stay, and is dividing honors with the tailored suit for street, traveling and business wear. It is defined by its name and is a garment for morning or afternoon wear, which made its appearance after the war began to curtail the supply of tailors, and a substitute for suits that could be made by dressmakers had to be promoted.

An example of a draped all-day dress is shown in the picture. It is made of brown in tricotine, with a fascinating cascade of folds formed by draping the material at the right side, and a long row of round covered buttons lending interest to the left side of the skirt. The very simple, surplice bodice is gathered in at the waistline and joined to the skirt with a piping of the goods. The dress opens at the right side and a long narrow sash of the material ties here. In the simplest of loops and the most casual manner. A piping at the neck opening would make a severe finish if it were not for flat silk braid, put on in points, that gives a pretty and original finish to the bodice, and appears on the sleeves from elbow to wrist.

It will be noticed that the hat worn with this dress is a strictly tailored affair of black hatters' plush, one of the many banded saliors that are business-like and popular for street wear. Grosgrain ribbon makes its very effective trimming.

Many an all-day dress was once a street suit. There are so many designs for making these one-piece frocks that they tempt the thrifty to remodel suits that are out of style, or show signs of wear, and give them a new lease on life. With the popularity of more fanciful styles remodeling becomes easier, and it is the fashion to be economical. With a world in need of clothes, every yard of wool or cotton goods should make itself useful in the wardrobe or be eliminated from it. Many people are in need of clothes for the coming winter, and many have more than they need. If you have a suit that has served its day with you, pass it along to some one who can remodel it into a good looking dress.

MINER CHIEF SAYS STRIKE IS CERTAIN

Miners Demand Thirty Hour Week And Sixty Per Cent Hike At One Time

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 11.—There is no hope to avoid a nation wide coal mine strike on November 1, in the opinion of John Wilkinson, president of the United Mine Workers of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, who left for Philadelphia, Pa. to attend the joint conference between representatives of the operators and miners. President Wilkinson says there is no possible chance of the conference reaching an agreement.

Strike Is Sure.

"The strike is sure to come," said President Wilkinson. "The representatives of the miners are bound by the demands adopted by their recent international convention at Cleveland, Ohio, and the committee is powerless to alter these demands which include a six hour day, five days a week and an increase of 60 per cent in wages. It will require another convention to change the demands."

"The convention voted for a strike to begin November 1, unless its demands were met by the operators. This means there will be a strike vote or other formalities and that the strike will begin on the date set by the convention."

All Operators Affected.

"Approximately 16,000 men will be on strike in district 21, between ten and eleven thousand in Oklahoma, 4,000 in Arkansas and 1,600 in Texas. The strike will involve from 400 to 450 thousand miners in the country. The miners in the unorganized fields have signified their willingness to join the strike which will swell the list considerably."

"There will be no sectional agreements. That means that no settlement will be acceptable unless it involves all strikers. In addition there will be no settlement with operators who do not belong to the operators association. When a settlement is made it will effect every operator, independent or otherwise and it will also effect every striker."

G. O. P. SEEKS ALIBI ON LONG INACTIVITY

DELAY IN PASSING FOOD CONTROL WORRIES LEADERS, WHO BLAME THE PRESIDENT.

By News' Special Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The amendment to the food control act, recommended by the Administration to enable the attorney general to reach profiteers in sugar and other food and foodstuffs, is not yet a law, although the conference committee has completed its work. Two months have passed since it was urged. Instead of expediting its passage, the republicans abuse the President for some imaginary slackness somewhere.

Senator New of Indiana, one of the recent political additions to the senate, thinks that the increase in the price of sugar can be blamed on the President. Senator New has requested an investigation to determine just where the Chief Executive is at fault. The authorization for an inquiry is all right, for democrats and republicans voted for it, but just why Senator New should charge the President with responsibility for the sugar shortage no one without vivid imagination is able to see. In a speech on the floor of the senate, Mr. New tried with all his tongue power to fix the blame on Mr. Wilson.

Instead of hurrying the enactment of needed laws, the republicans have wasted time in criticising the department of justice and the White House. They claimed for weeks that the President needed no additional legislation to uncover and punish the profiteer. They argued that the food control act and the anti-trust acts were ample to jail the profiteer and gouger. The attorney general made it plain in statements before House and Senate committees that an amendment to the food control act was absolutely imperative if he was to proceed against the real offenders. In spite of the array of facts he presented and the logical argument he made, the legislation was retarded.

The people of the country are aware of the failure of republicans in congress. They are asking "Where is that food control act amendment? Where is that constructive program?"

The House investigating committees are returning from their tours of inquiry. They will report to the press first, and then to congress. The principal object of the several inquisitorial expeditions was to get material for the 1920 campaign.

There is rivalry between the various candidates for publicity. Representative Bland of Indiana, got a start on his fellow republican, Representative Johnson, chairman of the sub-committee of the Committee of Fifteen, named to inquire into the cost of the prosecution of the war, and gave out an individual report on what his committee found in France. Representative Bland began like a foxhound on a hot trail as he landed in New York. He found conditions "appalling," and condemned General Harts, who had charge of the prison camps in the Paris district. He criticizes Pershing for not postponing his trip home to testify before the committee.

Chairman Johnson does not share Representative Bland's feel in g against General Pershing. He admits that it did not make much difference. Representative Flood of Virginia, democratic member of the sub-committee, has quite a different report. He defends General Harts from criticism leveled at him by Representative Bland.

"In justice to General Harts," declared Mr. Flood, "I ought to say that the evidence before the committee exonerated him from complicity in the alleged prison atrocities, and as soon as he learned of them he proceeded to correct them and did correct them."

Mr. Flood also said that Mr. Bland was in error in stating that $1,700,000,000 worth of American property was sold under a blanket contract with France for $400,000,000. "The $1,700,000,000," said Mr. Flood, "was the cost price of our surplus property in France. An inventory at the time the surplus was declared fixed the value of this property at about $1,000,000,000. This surplus consisted of supplies of all sorts and of enormous installations, such as camps, docks, hospitals, storehouses, ice plants, railroad sidings, and narrow gauge military railroads, which were of no value to us, but a considerable liability, because large numbers of soldiers were required to guard them and when we gave them up we would have had to remove the structure and put the land in its normal condition. Many of these installations were of no use to France. Of the $1,000,000,000 of inventoried property, $200,000,000 were sold before the French contract."

Mr. Flood said France "is still wondering at the great achievements of the Americans." He declared the buildings alone, "if placed end to end, would have extended from Brest to the Russian frontier of Germany, or about 900 miles. French engineers protested that these constructions could not be erected within the limit of time set by the Americans, but they were built and well built."

"Of course in a time so hurried and in a business so vast and complicated, some mistakes and errors of judgment must have occurred. These were so few in number and so inconsequential in relation to the big things successfully accomplished that they can hardly be detected except by an investigating microscope" in the hands of a cool observer collecting evidence after the rush of

To the people of the country, the most interesting part of the journey of this sub-committee will be its expense accounts. Several thousands of dollars were expended in a search for information that could have been had here with much less effort. The democrats tried to stop these peregrinations, although they favored the investigations to let the public know the truth, of which they are not ashamed or afraid.

The Fear sub-committee, which went into the spruce country of the Pacific coast, is back in the capital. If it has uncovered any scandals, reports of them have not been used.

Ladies of the Jury.

Miss Helen McCormick, assistant District Attorney of Kings County, New York, has helped to draw up a bill asking for a law to allow women to serve on juries in New York State. Miss McCormick says women would be less emotional than men in dealing with their own sex and could be counted on to be just.

"This idea of women on juries is one that always makes a great appeal to women," says Miss McCormick, "for there is an opportunity for women's intuition to guide her, and intuition being an animal instinct, is nearly always correct. The idea of calling sex into question to the exclusion of women is a fallacy, for after all everything depends on the individual, whether woman or man. It is the actual type of man or woman that will make the decision, and not the sex of the juror."

Of unique and timely interest is the announcement that Florence

That Winter Comforter

Reed's latest super-picture, The Woman Under Oath, which comes to the American Theatre today, is based on the remarkable experiences of the first woman juror to serve on a New York panel. The story, which is reported to be of remarkable quality, has nothing whatever to do with jury propaganda, but depicts with fascinating vividness the course of a capital trial, the result of which depends in the outcome entirely on the strength of mind of a lone woman juror who withstands the utmost pressure from her eleven male co-jurors in a case of astonishingly circumstantial evidence. Her justification, complete and unquestioned, made in the last phases of this astonishing drama, of the unswerving stand she took, is to form a tremendous climax to one of the most gripping plays of recent times.

First Baptist Church.

Sunday school convenes at 9:45 with Mr. J. A. Ridling as the superintendent. We are very anxious to have a large attendance tomorrow. Let all the pupils be present, and we will be very glad to have any visitors in the city come and visit our Sunday school.

The morning worship will begin promptly at 11 o'clock, and the pastor will preach on the subject, "Isaac a type of Christ," and we will observe the ordinance of the Lord's Supper. We are very anxious for all new members of our church as well as old members to be present and to observe this memorial that our blessed Lord requested that we observe to commemorate his sufferings until He comes.

The Sunbeams will meet at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Harry Morris in charge. Let all parents see that the children come.

The Juniors No. 2, will meet at 6 o'clock instead of 5:30, with Mrs. Dr. Webster in charge. This organization is for girls and boys between the ages of ten and twelve. They had a fine crowd last Sunday and will expect another large crowd tomorrow.

Juniors No. 1, will meet at 6 o'clock with Mrs. C. C. Morris as leader. They likewise had a fine attendance last Sunday, and are expecting a splendid attendance tomorrow. This organization is for girls and boys between the ages of twelve and sixteen.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 as heretofore. A splendid program will be rendered and all the young people are urged to be present. We are always happy to see the Normal students with us, and would be delighted to see a large attendance from there tomorrow.

The evening preaching hour has been put up to 8 o'clock. The days are getting shorter, and we feel that the people had rather come a little earlier and get back home a little earlier. The pastor will preach on the subject "The Two Ways," and desires to greet a large congregation at this service as well as at all the services of the day.

We are glad to have visitors and strangers visit us at any time and it will be our delight to have you with us tomorrow at all the services.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, Pastor.

I Always Keep On Hand A "Moving Account"

The other day a man said he once learned a great lesson from hard times. He lived in a large city at the time a business depression hit the country. He was up against it and employment was hard to secure. He didn't have money enough to leave the city, neither did he have enough to remain in the city.

"And I got wise to something right then and there. My wife and I decided that when normal conditions returned we would establish what we termed a 'moving account'—that is, we would deposit in the bank out of our earnings enough money to enable us to get away from the city the next time a slump came. We did it. We still maintain a 'moving account'. No matter what happens we never let it get below a certain minimum."

If Ada should hit the skids tomorrow would YOU be able to seek employment elsewhere? Think this matter over and come to see us. We want your deposits—no matter whether it's a moving account or a staying account.

2000 LIVES LOST IN SHIP'S WRECK

IF LOSS IS LARGE AS REPORTED DISASTER WILL MARK NEW RECORD IN ANALS OF SEA.

Archangle, Russia, Friday, Oct. 10.—Two thousand lives have been lost in the wreck of an unnamed British vessel on the Norwegian coast according to a wireless dispatch received here from Helsingfors. If the loss of life in the wreck reported in the foregoing dispatch is as large as indicated, the disaster will make a new record in the annals of the sea. It would seem probable that the ship which was wrecked was a military transport bringing British soldiers from Archangle, from which port Great Britain has been sending large numbers of men during the last month.

The largest recorded loss of life in a marine disaster occurred when the Titanic was sunk after colliding with an iceberg south of Newfoundland on April 14, 1912. The list of deaths showing 1,503 names. The Lusitania sank by a German submarine May 7, 1915, carried down with her more than 1200 of her passengers and crew. When the Empress of Ireland was sent to the bottom in Gulf of St. Lawrence on May 30, 1914, the loss of life was 1,027.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Neither the admiralty nor Lloyd's have received any information relative to the wreck of a British ship on the Norwegian coast. At both of these sources the report is discredited.

EMMA GOLDMAN IN REFORMER ROLE

ANARCHIST LEADER PROPOSES TO START REFORM OF THE MISSOURI STATE PENITENTIARY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Just out of federal prison, Emma Goldman proposes to start a movement to reform treatment of women sent to Missouri state penitentiary at Jefferson City. Goldman makes no complaint of her own treatment while serving a term for anti-war propaganda. She says she was shown the utmost consideration.

"I trust that my protest against the cruel treatment accorded the unfortunate women in this prison will awaken the American people to the grim fact that in their own country and in the 20th century, slavery exists in its most terrible form," she says.

A foreman, a boy of 21, who began in the art of shoe-driving at the age of 16, bullies and terrorizes the women, holding the club of the blind cell and bread and water over them. The vilest language is used toward women, some of them old enough to be this young man's mother.

"Tuck is impossible. It is utterly impossible to keep up the required speed day after day to make the test the prison authorities demand. The working hours are nine hours, but to complete the task, the women are driven to the sweat shop method of taking the work to their cells in the evening.

"The contract system is supposed to have been abolished, but I have evidence that overalls, jackets and suspenders from the Jefferson City prison are sold to private concerns in every state in the union. I intend to turn this evidence over to the labor organizations and to the department of labor.

"Lilah Smith is in charge of the women prisoners. She has been employed in penal institutions since she was 15. Not once in 30 months did I hear her address one kind of encouraging word to a prisoner.

"Flogging is supposed to have been abolished in Missouri, but vigorous slapping and cuffing of helpless charges still goes on.

"Women who cannot perform the required task thru weakness or ignorance are punished. Sometimes they are locked in their cells over the weekend on bread and water, sometimes they are confined for days in the blind cell with one blanket and two pieces of bread and two cups of water a day to sustain them.

Treatment is fatal.

"One woman who had been ill and unable to make the task was locked up on bread and water for 15 days, then fed a heavy porkchop dinner on Thanksgiving day. She became unconscious and was removed to her cell where forcible feeding was attempted. She died. Influenza was given as the cause of her death.

"Since this incident, women are not kept in the blind cell more than three days."

THE LION AND THE LAMB

WILSON SHOULD HAVE WOMAN M.D.

FEMALE PHYSICIAN THINKS SHE COULD CURE THE PRESIDENT; WOMEN DOCTORS "KNOW MORE"

By Zoe Beckley.
LONDON, Oct. 11.—Let the doctors admit some well known woman physician to their consultations and they would arrive most quickly at the nature and cure of President Wilson's illness.

This suggestion was made in my today by Dr. Elizabeth Hogue Bone of Portchester Terrace, Hyde Park, who is said to have the largest trade of all the woman doctors who have been lifted to fame, fortune and scientific recognition in London during the war.

I had noticed that London was almost as much concerned about the president's illness as the cities at home must be. I see people in business reading about it in the news columns, then turning eagerly to the long editorials regarding it which the papers carry daily.

I hear comments on it in hotel lobbies, at theatres, in department stores and wherever I go. There is much speculation as to the exact nature of the attack which terminated the president's speech-making tour. And a lot of head-shaking over the announcement that it is some sort of "nervous" London understands and sympathizes with "nervous." For five years any kind of nerve trouble from shell shock to plain worry has needed no explanation.

Dr. Bone insists that neurology is the woman physician's true sphere and that therefore a woman specialist should be among the consultants at the president's bedside.

"Women have a peculiar gift for seeing the causes of nerve disorders," says Dr. Bone. "Some call it intuition. In hospital slang we call it 'twinkling.' It is really a sort of sixth sense, independent of other senses.

"About nine-tenths of the diagnosis in neurological cases has to do with things outside the patient's bodily condition. For example, I have known hysteria to be caused by the wallpaper and furnishings of a room. A man doctor would never dream it was the cause of the trouble, but a woman would figure it out.

"I am not so silly as to say your president can be cured by some woman doctor walking in and ordering the furniture changed about or beseeching the American public to view more sympathetically the league of nations.

"But I do say that women make the best neurologists and that a consultation of physicians of both sexes would be a splendid thing if prejudice could be set aside."

NORMAL INSTRUCTOR TO HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

Dr. E. A. MacMillan, professor of biology in East Central State Normal, will leave Sunday for Hot Springs, Ark., for the benefit of his health. He has been granted a leave of absence by the state board with full pay.

Dr. MacMillan is a zealous worker in his department and his devotion to duty and overwork have undermined his health to such an extent that he must recuperate. His many friends wish for him an early recovery.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11.—Five men who boarded southbound passenger train No. 35 of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad as it was leaving the Memphis yards early today, held up the express messenger and his helper, secured several express packages and escaped when the train was stopped at West Junction in response to a telephone message from the yardmaster who saw the men board the train.

When the train was stopped, the messenger and his assistant were found lying on the floor bound. One of the packages reported missing was said to have been shipped by a Memphis jewelry house.

Posses were organized quickly and began a search of the surrounding section.

West Junction is on the outskirts of the city and about four miles from the yards where the men boarded the train.

WHY "REDS" WON GERMAN FORCES WORLD'S SERIES CAPTURE ALL RIGA

JOHNNY EVERS SAYS THAT THE "REDS" ARE CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD—AND DESERVE THE SAME. PEOPLE WAIT ANXIOUSLY FOR CONFIRMATION OF NEWSPAPER REPORT THAT RIGA HAS BEEN TAKEN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Pat Moran's Reds are the champions of the world and they deserve to be. The better club won in the annual post season classic. Luck was no factor in their victory.

Most people picked the White Sox to win on the strength of paper averages. I was among the few who predicted that the Reds would win. Pitching is of primary importance in a world series and in this department the Reds were admitted by all to be superior. Their batting on paper was inferior to that of the White Sox.

But while I don't say the pitching in the national league is better than in the American, there are more good pitchers in the national than in the White Sox league.

Collectively, the White Sox have no apparent weakness. They were a great slugging club and derived the greatest advantage from a staff of small but high class pitchers. But after following them it was plain there were individual faults in the club.

Reds Were Smartest.

The Reds outfielded and outlit the Sox thruout and were smarter on the bases. Cincinnati's season's play proved it to be a game one-inning club. This was apparent during the series.

Before the series Rousch was the only Red player generally believed to be superior to the Chicago player in his position. But in the series every one of the Cincinnati regulars except Groh outshone his opponent.

At first base Daubert outplayed Gandil and made his bat more valuable. At second base Morris Rath pulled one of the biggest surprises of the series by his hitting. His fielding also was superior to that of the highly rated Sox star.

Kopf's work at shortstop bordered on the sensational. He outclassed Risberg in the field and at the bat.

Weaver Beat Groh.

Contrary to expectations, Buck Weaver had a comfortable shade over Heinie Groh at third base. Groh played remarkable ball in the first few games but fell off toward the end of the series.

John Collins, who played right field in part of the games for the Sox, ranked on a par with Earle showed better than Nemo Leibold. Eddie Rousch stands alone in center field. His work showed him to be one of the greatest players in the game.

Duncan was one of the stars of the game. He held his own with the great Joe Jackson, considering the fact that the Cincinnati youngster was making his first start in an important series.

Ray Schalk is one of the greatest catchers in the game, but in this series both Rariden and Wingo outplayed him.

Kerr was the bright star of the White Sox pitching staff. The worlds of credit must be given to the game Eddie Cleotis came back and won after two defeats. Hod Eller was a particular star of the Red staff but all of Moran's pitchers did high class work.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Confirmation of a newspaper report that German forces have captured Riga is being awaited here, but if the disparity in the rival forces is as great as reported in some dispatches, the success of the attack on the Baltic port would not be surprising.

"Germany's new war" is featured in the morning newspapers but the reports printed here have added nothing of importance to the dispatches received by the Associated Press. The whereabouts of General Von der Goltz continues to be the subject of contradictory rumors and the estimates of the size of the army commanded by Colonel Avaloff-Bermot also show a wide difference.

It is recalled that Count Keller, commander of a large force in the Baltic provinces which was recruited from German troops, left by the Allies at the time of the armistice is a Baltic baron and formerly a general in the Russian army.

Interest here now is largely focused in the result obtained from the note which the supreme council of the peace conference is reported to be sending to Berlin today demanding the withdrawal of German troops from the Baltic provinces under a threat of coercive measures from the Allies.

A.H.S. TAKES THE SECOND GAME EASY

TROTS AWAY WITH HOLDENVILLE BY A 13 TO 0 SCORE. WET GROUND KEPT SCORE DOWN.

The High school football lads returned from Holdenville last evening with a 13 to 0 victory tagged on behind. The Holdenville boys proved to be staunch antagonists, but they were unable to stop the mighty plunges of Crawford and Cunningham and the lightning-like darts and sprints of Mallory, Pentem and Derrick. The Ada line held firmly, not cracking in the entire sixty minutes of play.

Ada's two touchdowns came in the third quarter. Derrick, playing halfback, shot a forward pass to Pentem, the midget quarterback, and Pentem plunged over the line for a touchdown. The attempt to kick goal failed.

In the same quarter the backs carried the ball down the field, mostly on line plunges. Crawford taking most of the hard heaving on himself. Towards the last of the quarter, Cunningham replaced Crawford at fullback and dived through the line for the second counter of the day.

The Holdenville lads did not seriously threaten the Ada goal, though time after time they showed good football. The ground was heavy and a cold, wet wind made good football difficult.

Ada's next game is here with the same team next week.

COAL MINERS AND THE OPERATORS CAN'T AGREE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 11.—The conference of bituminous coal miners and operators in session here considering the demands of the miners for a sixty per cent increase in wages and a reduction in working hours disagreed today and will adjourn. A sub-committee that had been considering the demands, claiming that it could not agree, reported the deadlock condition to the general conference which began its sessions here yesterday and recommended final adjournment.

Unless something happens in the meantime to prevent it the leaders of the mine workers say that a strike threatened for Nov. 1 will take place.

Operators have declared they cannot concede either of the demands of the workers.

The mines affected are in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. More than 300,000 men are involved.

THE BIG GIFT DAY AT NAPIER SCHOOL A SUCCESS

Yesterday by noon many things had been sent to the colored public school as the result of the appeal of the principal in the way of contributions for the sewing class and work for domestic science.

It is reported that besides cooking utensils, fifteen dollars were solicited by the school children, with which, under the direction of the teachers, purchases were made, the merchants allowing a liberal discount with each purchase.

Every encouragement possible should be given this school on the part of the public, as a product of this school in the future will be an asset in the community in which the pupil may live. If you have any gifts in the way of dishes, plates, etc., also used garments or clothing, needles, thread, etc., send it to the school.

The principal does not maintain a phone but the News will receive names and addresses and hand over to principal.

Dividing Honors With Street Suits

The "all-day dress" appears to have come to stay, and is dividing honors with the tailored suit for street, traveling and business wear. It is defined by its name and is a garment for morning or afternoon wear, which made its appearance after the war began to curtail the supply of tailors, and a substitute for suits that could be made by dressmakers had to be promoted.

An example of a draped all-day dress is shown in the picture. It is made of brown in tulle, with a fascinating cascade of folds formed by draping the material at the right side, and a long row of round covered buttons lending interest to the left side of the skirt. The very simple, surprise bodice is gathered in at the waistline and joined to the skirt with a piping of the goods. The dress opens at the right side and a long narrow sash of the material ties here, in the simplest of loops and the most casual manner. A piping at the neck opening would make a severe finish. If it were not for that silk braid, put on in points, that gives a pretty and original finish to the bodice, and appears on the sleeves from elbow to wrist.

It will be noticed that the hat worn with this dress is a strictly tailored affair of black hatters' plush, one of the many handed saliors that are business-like and popular for street wear. Grosgrain ribbon makes its very effective trimming.

Many an all-day dress was once a street suit. There are so many designs for making these one-piece frocks that they tempt the thrifty to remodel suits that are out of style, or show signs of wear, and give them a new lease on life. With the popularity of more fanciful styles remodeling becomes easier, and it is the fashion to be economical. With a world in need of clothes, every yard of wool or cotton goods should make itself useful in the wardrobe or be eliminated from it. Many people are in need of clothes for the coming winter, and many have more than they need. If you have a suit that has served its day with you, pass it along to some one who can remodel it into a good looking dress.

G. O. P. SEEKS ALIBI ON LONG INACTIVITY

DELAY IN PASSING FOOD CONTROL BILL, WHO BLAME THE PRESIDENT.

By News Special Service.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The amendment to the food control act, recommended by the Administration to enable the attorney general to reach profiteers in sugar and other food and foodstuffs, is not yet a law, although the conference committee has completed its work. Two months have passed since it was urged, instead of expediting its passage, the republicans abuse the President for some imaginary slackness somewhere.

Senator New of Indiana, one of the recent political additions to the senate, thinks that the increase in the price of sugar can be blamed on the President. Senator New has requested an investigation to determine just where the Chief Executive is at fault. The authorization for an inquiry is all right, for democrats and republicans voted for it, but just why Senator New should charge the President with responsibility for the sugar shortage is one without vivid imagination is able to see. In a speech on the floor of the senate, Mr. New tried with all his long power to fix the blame on Mr. Wilson.

Instead of hurrying the enactment of needed laws, the republicans have wasted time in criticizing the department of justice and the White House. They claimed for weeks that the President needed no additional legislation to uncover and punish the profiteer. They argued that the food control act and the anti-trust acts were ample to jail the profiteer and gouger. The attorney general made it plain in statements before House and Senate committees that an amendment to the food control act was absolutely imperative if he was to proceed against the real offenders. In spite of the array of facts he presented and the logical argument he made, the legislation was regarded.

The people of the country are aware of the failure of republicans in congress. They are asking "Where is that food control act amendment? Where is that constructive program?"

The House investigating committee is returning from their tour of inquiry. They will report to the press first, and then to congress. The principal object of the several industrial expeditions was to get material for the 1920 campaign.

There is rivalry between the various candidates for publicity. Representative Bland of Indiana, got a start on his fellow republican, Representative Johnson, chairman of the sub-committee of the Committee of Fifteen, named to inquire into the cost of the prosecution of the war, and gave out an individual report on what his committee found in France. Representative Bland began like a foxhound on a hot trail as he landed in New York. He found conditions "appalling," and condemned General Haris, who had charge of the prison camps in the Paris district. He criticized Pershing for not postponing his trip homeward to testify before the committee.

Chairman Johnson does not share Representative Bland's feeling against General Pershing. He admits that it did not make much difference. Representative Flood of Virginia, democratic member of the sub-committee, has quite a different report. He defends General Haris from criticisms leveled at him by Representative Bland.

"In justice to General Haris," declared Mr. Flood, "I ought to say that the evidence before the committee exonerated him from complicity in the alleged prison atrocities, and as soon as he learned of them he proceeded to correct them and did correct them."

Mr. Flood also said that Mr. Bland was in error in stating that $1,700,000,000 worth of American property was sold under a blanket contract with France for $400,000,000.

"The $1,700,000,000," said Mr. Flood, "was the cost price of our surplus property in France. An inventory at the time the surplus was declared fixed the value of this property at about $1,000,000,000. This surplus consisted of supplies of all sorts and of enormous installations, such as camps, docks, hospitals, storehouses, ice plants, railroad sidings, and narrow gauge military railroads, which were of no value to us, but a considerable liability, because large numbers of soldiers were required to guard them and when we gave them up we would have had to remove the structure and put the land in its normal condition. Many of these installations were of no use to France. Of the $1,000,000,000 of inventoried property, $200,000,000 were sold before the French contract."

Mr. Flood said France "is still wondering at the great achievements of the Americans." He declared the buildings alone, "if placed end to end, would have extended from Brest to the Russian frontier of Germany, or about 900 miles. French engineers protested that these constructions could not be erected within the limit of time set by the Americans, but they were built and well built. "Of course in a time so hurried and in a business so vast and complicated, some mistakes and errors or judgment must have occurred. These were so few in number and so inconsequential in relation to the big things successfully accomplished that they can hardly be detected except by an investigating microscope in the hands of a cool observer collecting evidence after the rush of those mighty events has ceased. To the people of the country, the most interesting part of the journey of this sub-committee will be its expense accounts. Several thousands of dollars were expended in a search for information that could have been had here with much less effort. The democrats tried to stop these peregrinations, although they favored the investigations to let the public know the truth, of which they are not ashamed or afraid.

The Fear sub-committee, which went into the spruce country of the Pacific coast, is back in the capital. If it has uncovered any scandals, reports of them have not been used.

The Walsh sub-committee to investigate the United States Shipping Board, returned without making any noise. A report is expected soon.

Ladies of the Jury.

Miss Helen McCormick, assistant District Attorney of Kings County, New York, has helped to draw up a bill asking for a law to allow women to serve on juries in New York State. Miss McCormick says women would be less emotional than men in dealing with their own sex and could be counted on to be just.

"This idea of women on juries is one that always makes a great appeal to women," says Miss McCormick. "For there is an opportunity for women's intuition to guide, not an intuition being an animal instinct, is nearly always correct. The idea of calling sex into question to the exclusion of women is a fallacy, for after all everything depends on the individual, whether woman or man. It is the actual type of man or woman that will make the decision, and not the sex of the juror."

Of unique and timely interest is the announcement that Florence

That Winter Comforter

Reed's latest super-picture, The Woman Under Oath, which comes to the American Theatre today, is based on the remarkable experiences of the first woman juror to serve on a New York panel. The story, which is reported to be of remarkable quality, has nothing whatever to do with jury propaganda, but depicts, with fascinating vividness the course of a capital trial, the result of which depends in the outcome entirely on the strength of mind of a lone woman juror who withstands the utmost pressure from her eleven male co-jurors in a case of astonishing circumstantial evidence. Her justification, complete and unquestioned, made in the last phases of this astonishing drama, of the unwavering stand she took, is to form a tremendous climax to one of the most gripping plays of recent times.

The Sunbeams will meet at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Harry Morris in charge. Let all parents see that the children come.

The Juniors No. 2, will meet at 7 o'clock instead of 5:30, with Mrs. Dr. Webster in charge. This organization is for girls and boys between the ages of ten and twelve. They had a fine crowd last Sunday and will expect another large crowd tomorrow.

Juniors No. 1, will meet at 6 o'clock with Mrs. C. C. Morris as leader. They likewise had a fine attendance last Sunday, and are expecting a splendid attendance tomorrow. This organization is for girls and boys between the ages of twelve and sixteen.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 as heretofore. A splendid program will be rendered and all the young people are urged to be present. We are always happy to see the Normal students with us, and would be delighted to see a large attendance from there tomorrow.

The evening preaching hour has been put up to 8 o'clock. The days are getting shorter, and we feel that the people had rather come a little earlier and get back home a little earlier. The pastor will preach on the subject "The Two Ways," and desires to greet a large congregation at this service as well as at all the services of the day.

We are glad to have visitors and strangers visit us at any time and it will be our delight to have you with us tomorrow at all the services.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, Pastor.

MINER CHIEF SAYS STRIKE IS CERTAIN

Miners Demand Thirty Hour Week And Sixty Per Cent Hike At One Time

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 11.—There is no hope to avoid a nation wide coal mine strike on November 1, in the opinion of John Wilkinson, president of the United Mine Workers of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, who left for Philadelphia, Pa. to attend the joint conference between representatives of the operators and miners. President Wilkinson says there is no possible chance of the conference reaching an agreement.

Strike Is Sure.
"The strike is sure to come," said President Wilkinson. "The representatives of the miners are bound by the demands adopted by their recent international convention at Cleveland, Ohio, and the committee is powerless to alter these demands which include a six hour day, five days a week and an increase of 60 per cent in wages. It will require another convention to change the demands."

"The convention voted for a strike to begin November 1, unless its demands were met by the operators. This means there will be a strike vote or other formalities and that the strike will begin on the date set by the convention."

All Operators Affected.
"Approximately 15,000 men will be on strike in district 21, between ten and eleven thousand in Oklahoma, 4000 in Arkansas and 1,600 in Texas. The strike will involve from 400 to 450 thousand miners in the country. The miners in the unorganized fields have signified their willingness to join the strike which will swell the list considerably."

"There will be no sectional agreements. That means that no settlement will be acceptable unless it involves all strikers. In addition there will be no settlement with operators who do not belong to the operators association. When a settlement is made it will effect every operator, independent or otherwise, and it will also effect every striker."

Governors From Nine States, Go To New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—Governors of nine cotton growing states will preside at the sessions here Oct. 13 to 16 of the World Cotton Conference at which representatives will be in attendance from 31 nations interested or affected by the cotton industry.

The governors chosen as chairmen are W. P. Hobby, Texas; A. H. Roberts, Tenn.; Charles H. Brough, Arkansas; Theodore G. Bilbo, Mississippi; Thomas E. Kilby, Alabama; Hugh Dorsey, Georgia; J. B. A. Robertson, Oklahoma; Thomas W. Bickett, South Carolina and Ruffin G. Pleasant, Louisiana.

Subjects announced for discussion included growing and handling of cotton; future requirements and new sources of production; storage and insurance of cotton; transportation by river, rail and overseas; buying and selling and world problems of the textile industry.

It was decided by the executive committee that the constructive work of the conference should take form through hearings held and conclusions reached by the chairmen and members of ten committees, each of which would deal with some particular group of problems of basic importance to the industry. Each of the ten committees will consist of twelve American and three foreign delegates.

The committee with the chairmen follow: Growing of cotton, seed selection, methods of cultivation and picking, E. A. Calvin, Houston, Tex.; ginning, uniform baling and compressing, Harvie Jordan, Monticello, Ga.; warehousing and country damage, L. K. Salisbury, Memphis; transportation and insurance, M. J. Sanders, New Orleans; buying and selling, equitable tare and net weight, Frederick A. Flather, Lowell, Mass.; exchanges, classification, contracts and purchases, Arthur R. Marsh, New York; financing, foreign credits and exports, W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, Washington; research, reports and statistics, Samuel L. Rodgers, director of the Census, Washington; world's requirements and stabilizing production and prices, W. M. Thompson, New Orleans; permanent organization, James D. Hammett, Anderson, S. C.

I Always Keep On Hand A "Moving Account"

The other day a man said he once learned a great lesson from hard times. He lived in a large city at the time a business depression hit the country. He was up against it and employment was hard to secure. He didn't have money enough to leave the city, neither did he have enough to remain in the city.

"And I got wise to something right then and there. My wife and I decided that when normal conditions returned we would establish what we termed a 'moving account'—that is, we would deposit in the bank out of our earnings enough money to enable us to get away from the city the next time a slump came. We did it. We still maintain a 'moving account'. No matter what happens we never let it get below a certain minimum."

If Ada should hit the skids tomorrow would YOU be able to seek employment elsewhere? Think this matter over and come to see us. We want your deposits—no matter whether it's a moving account or a staying account.

SLIGHT DROP NOTED IN COST OF LIVING

INDICATIONS ARE NOW THAT PRICES WILL SOON DECLINE.
—ARMY STORES ARE POPULAR.

By News' Special Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—With fair price committees established over the country and district attorneys keeping a close watch on food hoarders and profiteers, the high cost of living has been definitely halted and is showing some slight signs of a downward direction. In a statement issued during the past week Attorney General Palmer, whose department is keeping a keen eye on the price situation, announced that already retail prices in staples and ordinary commodities in a large area of the country has shown a drop of about 15 per cent compared with a month ago when the government began its national drive. Indications are that commodity prices will not advance beyond the limits they have already reached and that from now on they will decline.

Carrying out its program of direct sale of surplus supplies, the War Department has announced the opening of a chain of retail stores at all the

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieve me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui.

By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

OKLAHOMA CITY HAS TEN CANDIDATES OUT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Eleven candidates, nine democrats and two republicans, will face the voters in the Fifth district special congressional primary race on October 18. The time in which candidates could file ended last night. The names that will go on the ballots are:

Roy Stafford, W. M. Franklin, Ed Boyle, Jep Knight, Anna Laskey, Ross Lillard, James S. Ross, John Wright and Claude Weaver, democrats and J. W. Karpis and Amos L. Wilson, republicans. All candidates, with the exception of Knight, live in Oklahoma City. Knight is a state senator from Wynnewood, Garvin county.

Contract for the printing of the ballots for the special election was awarded this morning by the state election board to the Warden Printing company of Oklahoma City, on a bid of $640.

While no definite figures on the supplemental registration, which ended in the district yesterday, have been received by the election board, election officials this morning expressed the belief the enrollment of new voters was exceptionally light.

The Whole State Now Complains of Car Shortage

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—The situation existing in the Oklahoma wheat belt, due to the lack of cars for grain movement, is hourly growing more serious and relief is not in sight, despite repeated efforts to secure more empty cars, it was declared by officials of the corporation commission.

Responsibility for the car shortage was checked back to the United States railroad administration. The corporation commission it was declared, is powerless to direct the carriers to increase their allotment of empty cars for Oklahoma, and only action by railroad administration officials can help the situation.

Scores of complaints. For the past thirty or forty days the corporation commission has been receiving from four to six complaints a day from farmers and elevator operators, asking for more cars, and these have been forwarded to the regional railroad director at St. Louis. It was stated at the office of the commission, Oklahoma congressmen and senators have brought the situation to the attention of Washington rail officials, but so far without material success.

The latest communication to the commission from rail officials stated that this year's allotment of empty cars to the southwest division, comprising Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas, showed an increase of 27 per cent over last year, and intimated that this was about all that could be expected for some time.

Record Unprecedented. While definite statistics are lacking, it was stated at the office of the board of agriculture this morning that there is more unmarketed and unmoored grain in Oklahoma at present than at any time in the history of the state. Most of it is stacked in barns and on the ground awaiting movement. The extent to which it will be damaged by the present rain, which is reported to be fairly general over the state, is problematical, officials of the department said, that in most cases it is protected from the weather.

Ancient Elevator. The earliest mention of a device in any way resembling the modern elevator may be read in Vitruvius, who describes a hoisting machine invented by Archimedes. The elevator of the second century B. C. was worked by ropes coiled upon a winding drum by a capstan and levers.

SITUATION GRAVE HINES IS TOLD

FREIGHT CONGESTION IN OKLAHOMA SERIOUS, ART WALKER TELLS DIRECTOR GENERAL HINES.

By News' Special Service
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—Appointment of a special traffic manager to assume full charge of the terribly congested freight movement situation in Oklahoma, is demanded by Art Walker, chairman of the corporation commission, in a telegram sent yesterday to Walker D. Hines, director-general of railroads at Washington.

Telegrams to Delegation. Copies of the telegram to Hines, setting forth the situation in Oklahoma, which is getting more serious hourly because of the delay in moving the cotton crop, were sent to each member of the Oklahoma delegation in congress, with the suggestion that a meeting of the delegation be held immediately for the purpose of presenting a strong demand to Hines for immediate action to relieve the situation.

Walker's telegram to Director Hines states: "Shortage in car situation in Oklahoma is assuming grave proportions. Scores of complaints are filed with corporation commission daily. Condition hourly becoming more acute. At many points grain in large quantities is piled on ground and subjected to rains. Cotton crop movement is in full blast and cotton gins overcrowded with seed. Oil mills unable to obtain seed. With 900,000 bale cotton crop and car loads of cotton seed on ground at many points and bankers refusing to furnish additional capital under present conditions, enormous loss to cotton and grain industry is being sustained daily. Immediate action on your part is necessary to meet abnormal conditions and avoid more serious complications. Local agents unable to get any relief. Insist that you appoint special traffic manager for Oklahoma."

Central Control Needed. After a full investigation, the commission, it was stated, is of the opinion that the situation cannot properly be handled through the various local agents, but must be systematized under one supreme head for the state, such as suggested by Walker.

It was estimated by attaches of the commission yesterday that the state is short 10,000 cars which are needed for the movement of wheat, cotton and livestock. The Oklahoma cotton crop is valued at $250,000,000 but cannot be turned into money until free movement of freight is resumed.

Gem Has Tragic History. The "Regent" diamond, which is treasured in Paris, and is the queen of all the French national gems, was picked up in 1701 at the Parthenon in the Kistia, by a slave, who, concealing it in a belt cut for its reception in his thigh, escaped with it to the coast. Here he sold it to an English skipper, who, instead of paying the small sum demanded, treacherously killed the slave.

Optimistic Thought. There is a better comforter than reason.

FEW COUNTRY PAPERS RESUME PUBLICATION

By News' Special Service
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Only twenty-five of the 150 newspapers in Oklahoma which suspended operation because of the war have resumed activity. W. E. Marsh of the Western Newspaper Union said yesterday.

War brought on a situation which, according to Marsh, is in some ways helpful. He pointed out that as many of the printers were called into service, it became necessary for many of the small country newspapers to consolidate. This has led to better newspapers and fewer of that class which merely existed. Then, too, a large number of the editors were called into service or voluntarily enlisted, which left the papers without active heads.

Despite the fact that fewer newspapers are being operated the amount of paper consumed this year is greater than last. This, in face of the acute shortage of white paper, has brought on a situation which is giving the newspaper publishers much concern as manufacturers have announced a big increase in the price.

HIGH TAXES MOVES ENGLISH PROPERTY

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 17. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—England is changing hands because taxes are so high landed proprietors cannot afford to own and maintain their estates, according to accumulating evidence of the past few days.

"The crushing taxation which resulted from the war," said the notice sent by the Duke of Rutland to his tenants, "coupled with the great rise in the price of all commodities and labor, has placed such burdens on my property as to compel me to largely diminish the size of my estate." The Duke of Rutland sold his Harby estates in the vale of Helvoir, much to the regret of his tenants.

Brigadier-General William Strong, of Thorpe Hill, Peterborough, is another landed proprietor who is parting with his property. He explained to the villagers that he expected to do so, but as one-third of his income now went in taxation, it was impossible for him to maintain the hall and the estate.

Property of this class is being bought by the newly-rich who made their fortunes during the war, but in almost every instance each estate is sold to a number of persons rather than being taken by one.

THE JOY OF OLD CLOTHES

Generally speaking, the joy of old clothes is known only to the masculine breast. Women know it from observation only, not from experience. It is true that Mr. Pepsy's mother had an old dressing gown that she called her kingdom, because she took such comfort in it; but usually, though a woman likes the freedom of a wrapper, she prefers that even a wrapper should be new and dainty. A man is most himself and most at peace when he thrusts his shoulders into an old coat, even if the back is wrinkled and the elbows shine.

The difference of taste is partly owing to the fundamental differences of sex training, which we are assured will disappear with the happy coming of the new regime. From childhood a woman learns that she must think more of how her clothes look to others than of how they feel to herself. Moreover, the basis of woman's dressing is variety, while that of man's is uniformity. When a garment is old, it is out of fashion, and lack of novelty vexes the feminine soul quite as much as lack of neatness.

But a still more interesting cause of the difference in feeling about old clothes is difference of occupation. A woman puts on her old clothes to work in. Worn garments are associated with the dishpan, the washtub, the cooking stove, the feather duster. When she is well dressed, she is going out to amuse herself, to be gay and free and happy. On the other hand, when a man goes to the office or the store and takes on the burden and the effort of life, he usually wears his good clothes, starched collars and pressed trousers and a general heavy sense of respectability. Old clothes for him mean release and abandon and comfort and enjoyment. That is why he loves the very sight and touch of them.

Think of this. Remember that what you call shabbiness means to your husband something of that which the neatest and daintiest starched trim means to you. And do not surreptitiously give away his last year's suit until he himself admits that it is past wearing.

THE FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

Now that the energies of the nation and of the individual have been released once more for the constructive works of peace, there is a revival of effort to stamp out the diseases that are the scourge and dread of mankind. Especially is there an organized campaign being carried on against tuberculosis. How important it is a few facts may show. In the United States every year 150,000 persons die of the disease. The deaths occur usually between the ages of 16 and 45, and most of the victims are persons engaged in productive occupations; therefore, the mortality from tuberculosis means a more serious economic loss than that from any other disease. The waste has been placed as high as $500,000,000 a year.

The menace of tuberculosis is one from which no community and no person is free. More than 1 per cent of the population of this country is afflicted with tuberculosis; in the countries that have felt the ravages of war the percentage is of course much higher. So long as virtually 90 per cent of the population is ignorant of preventive measures, the spread of the disease cannot be checked.

Education in the schools and at home will overcome the menace. Nearly all sufferers from tuberculosis were infected in childhood; the germ then planted became active in later years when physical resistance was lowered. If the children could be protected against the disease, tuberculosis would soon die out.

The National Tuberculosis Association, conducting its campaign under the auspices of the American Red Cross, is doing educational work that should have the support of every parent.

Senator Penrose proposes to defer until after the next presidential election the enactment of a new tariff law. This suggests either the senator's pessimism after contemplating his republican congress for the last three months, or an undue optimism concerning the results in 1920.

There are two catalogues of duties the republican congress can perform if it is in doubt as to what the public wants—the recommendations of the president and some of the measures that were promised to the soldiers.

Is the long discussion of cablegrams and ancient history and personalities in the senate to pass for a thoughtful consideration of the treaty?

Remembering the Boys.

A friend of mine performed a wedding ceremony for a young couple in our home town, after which the bridegroom took all the money out of his pocket, which was 75 cents, and turned it to my friend, the minister, and said: "I will have to keep 50 cents of this to buy cigars for the boys," and handed him the 25 cents for the fee.—Chicago Tribune.

Indian Jewels.
Crossing from China to India, we shall find the people there often laden with jewelry, writes Frank G. Carpenter, in "How the World Is Clothed." That worn by a single girl in the Himalaya mountains may weigh many pounds. It is usually of brass, but sometimes of gold and silver. In the valley of the Ganges, there are women who wear metal rings in their noses, and some who have silver bells much like sleigh bells fastened about their toes.

Everybody Cordially Invited to Hear this Distinguished Minister

This Rainy Weather is a Symbol of "Rainy Days" Yet to Come

The inclement weather of the past few days is a picture of the "rainy days" that come to all men. There are no men who do not at some time have a "rainy day." It's bound to hit every human being—this thing called "hard times."

To guard against the inevitable pinch, it behooves every man to lay by a part of his earnings; to accumulate a surplus that will tide him over the waves of disaster.

This bank solicits "rainy day" accounts. The little depositor finds here the same warm welcome and good fellowship that is accorded the man whose pockets are stuffed to the bulging point. We want your deposits and your influence—but your influence comes first in our esteem.

His Majesty King Cotton

King Cotton sits on his throne and reigns with greater majesty than ever before. He is scattering his wealth hither and thither. He is making the hovel grow into a castle. He is changing the two wheel cart into a high powered automobile. He is discarding the calico for the silks and satins. He lays aside the cotton jeans for broadcloth and worsteds.

Pontotoc County's Cotton

Pontotoc County has prospects for a bumper Cotton crop. Already the white fleece is rolling into Ada, Stonewall, Roff, Francis, Steedman, Allen, Vanoss, and the other cotton buying towns of the county. If the crop turns out as well as we expect it to and the price stays up, it will bring to this county more than $5,000,000.

The Way to Reach this Wealth

The farmers of this county are readers and thinkers. They do not depend upon noise and glamor for their information. In the quiet of their own firesides, they study and work out their buying program. They can tell by the tone of an advertisement if the facts are stated correctly.

Wonderful Markets

This money will be spent for things worth while. Pure bred livestock, Good clothes, hardware, shoes, houses, and farming tools will be bought. The man who has something to sell, and that something is worth while, can find a way to the buying power of this county through

The Ada Weekly News

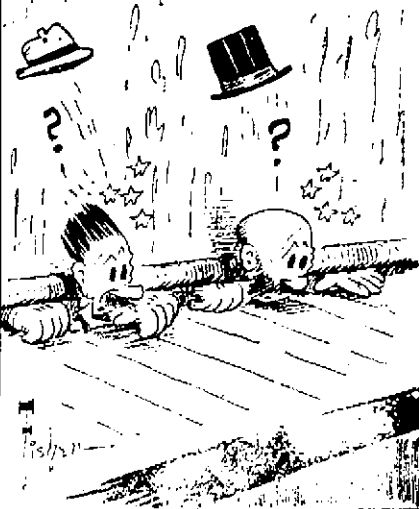

The Ada Weekly News is the only paper published in Pontotoc County with a county wide circulation. It circulates more papers than all other weekly papers combined and reaches ninety percent of the farm houses. NEW OFFER IS MADE FOR LODGE TEMPLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—Oklahoma City's Chamber of Commerce offered to raise $25,000 as a gift to the supreme grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Oklahoma to be combined with approximately $45,000 which it is believed can be obtained from the sale of property owned by the Odd Fellows lodges of the city making $70,000 as an inducement to the lodge to locate here its proposed temple and state headquarters. The announcement of the offer was made yesterday by members of the Chamber of Commerce committee which represented the city in the negotiations with the lodge.

The offer is conditional upon the lodge erecting as its temple a ten-story, modern, fireproof office building in the business section of Oklahoma City. Construction must be commenced before March 1, 1920. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to pay the money as soon as plans should be drawn and definite assurance given that the lodge would fulfill the terms of the offer. Oklahoma City's proposition is believed by the committee here to be more attractive than any so far submitted by either Tulsa or Muskogee.

Tulsa has a strong representation on the committee from the Odd Fellows who will decide upon the location of the temple, the new grand master, E. B. Cline, being a Tulsa man. It is thought probable that Tulsa may add to her original offer to the lodge in an effort to obtain the temple. The lodge stated before the adjournment of the session on Wednesday that it would not build anywhere unless it were offered a building site worth $100,000.

FOOLING WITH HEALTH SERIOUS

I have frequently asked druggists, "What do you push in a blood medicine?" The answer usually came, "The kind I can make the most money on." My answer has always been, "Not me." I have succeeded pretty well and I have always recommended the one that I had found to be the best and the one I would be willing to take myself or give to members of my own family. I have never offered the public a medicine that we do not use at home. That is why I can offer "Number 40 for the Blood," with a clear conscience; we have not only tried it on thousands of others, but on ourselves. We take it in all cases where a blood medicine is needed no matter in what form it shows itself and we get splendid results in constipation, kidney, stomach and liver troubles. I firmly believe if everyone would begin in the spring and take "Number 40," they would escape malaria and fevers in all forms. J. C. Mendenhall, 40 years a druggist, Evansville, Ind. Sold by Gwin & Mays Drug Co. (adv.)

Nineveh's Pathetic Ruins.
Past Mosul the river Tigris rolls its ancient, almost legendary, waters and opposite on the left bank, the dream of antiquity continues undisturbed. There in the blazing sun or in the dimming Persian moonlight, lie the ruins of Nineveh, the last and greatest capital of the Assyrian empire. The wall of the disappeared city still stands to a height of 50 feet and is 12 miles in circumference. Close by the bank of the river are the still imposing remains of two citadels.

Try This Way.
If some one has been unkind to us be kind to others. The great law will bring him a harvest of what he has sown. If we undertake to pay him back, evil for evil, we overstep our authority, and we also make ourselves liable to judgment for the part we take in the affair. We could just as well do something that would bring us a reward.

Does your stomach feel bloated after eating? Do you have sour risings, heartburn, spells of dizziness, and constipated bowels? If so, Prickly Ash Bitters is the medicine for you. It is exactly suited for such disorders. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.—Adv.

Labor Truce of Three Months Is Plan of Parley

Washington, Oct. 11.—Proposal of an industrial truce of three months duration to begin immediately was the outstanding feature of yesterday's session of the industrial conference. Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the public group offered the proposal.

Immediate arbitration of the steel strike was asked by Samuel Gompers, chairman of the labor group. He called on the conference to appoint a committee of six to settle the steel strike, the men to return to work while the settlement was being effected.

The object of Mr. Gompers would be accomplished by the Baruch plan, which would terminate all strikes and lockouts at once, and which provides for a three months period in which to reach adjustments. As Mr. Baruch is a personal adviser of the president and counseled him in calling the conference, it is believed his proposal has the sanction of the White House.

Behind it is seen the hope that the end of the three months probationary period may see the end of the industrial unrest in this country.

VETERANS OF SOUTH WANTS RATIFICATION

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 9.—Ratification of the German peace treaty and the league of nations' covenant without amendments or textual reservations was asked of the senate in resolutions adopted here yesterday at the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

The vote on the treaty and league of nations was unanimous.

Payment by congress of pensions to confederate veterans also was asked in another resolution adopted. Officers of the organization were re-elected including:

General K. M. Van Zandt of Fort Worth, Texas, commander in chief.
Gen. C. B. Vance, commander of the army of Tennessee.
Gen. Julian S. Karr, commander of the army of Northern Virginia.
Gen. Virgil V. Cook, commander of the trans-Mississippi department.

The request that the federal government pay pensions to former confederate soldiers was made on the ground that $68,000,000 worth of cotton was illegally confiscated by the United States government during and after the war and never paid for; that the south for more than thirty years has paid out millions of dollars towards pensions for federal soldiers and that the federal government owes the south an unpaid debt of $25,000,000 for captured property which was sold.

ENGLISH GIRLS HAVE HARD TIME GETTING JOBS BACK

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 15. (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Many girls who obtained clerical employment in government departments during the war are having a hard time finding new jobs since the cutting down of staffs has thrown them out of work. There have been numerous exposures of extravagance and incompetency in government offices and the girls who worked in them have come to be regarded by some employers as aiders and abettors in the wasting of the tax payers' money. They are discovering that commercial and business firms do not want them. Some advertisements of situations vacant conclude with the statement, "No government washouts need apply."

Employers consider their attitude well justified. "How can such girls be of any use in this house?" said the woman manager of the west end branch of a big London firm. "Everyone knows that in a government office the girls spend more time in knitting jumpers and making tea than in working."

"It is a case of the many suffering for the sins of the few," said one government official.

Indian Gamesters.
Although the natives of India do not operate on the stock market, they have adopted a unique form of gambling for which the cotton market reports are responsible. Every day five quotations are cabled from New York announcing the cotton situation. The natives looked upon this as a direct invitation to them to establish a simple but none the less absorbing form of gambling. The gambling consists simply in guessing what the five figures will amount to, and the man getting nearest to the right amount takes the stakes.

The Lions Club of Ada will hold its regular luncheon next Tuesday at 11 o'clock at the Harris Hotel. The city commissioners are anxious that the club get busy and be prepared to go through with its plan to build a Boy Scout hall in Glenwood park, for which ten thousand dollars in bonds were recently voted by the people to make necessary improvements.

It was understood that if the people voted the bonds to improve the park as it should be improved, that the Lions Club would raise five thousand dollars for the purpose of organizing the Boy Scouts and building them a home in the park. The Johnson & Benham Engineering Co. have very generously agreed to draw all of these plans free of charge. The club will probably take up these matters at the meeting and bi-monthly luncheon next Tuesday. All members of the club should make it a point to attend this meeting without fail.

Eggs Are Now Five Cents Each; They May Be More Soon

Eggs are beginning to take on the silver flavor of winter months with an early October advance of five cents quoted—making them now five cents each—60 cents a dozen straight.

And not only are they high, but they are scarce. Eggs at $1 a dozen will be familiar items on grocery bills this winter unless Ada produce men miss their guess.

Butter also is up five cents, selling at 60 cents a pound. This price is uniform almost all over the country.

But one item on the list of "edibles" is down—chickens. For Sunday dinner the choicest suggestion seems to be a baked chicken. A produce house has nice large chickens of three and a half pounds and over at 30 cents a pound dressed. That's five cents lower than last week.

Other fowls are scarce this week. Turkeys were limited, and other fowls were not being offered. Dressed hens were selling at 35 cents a pound.

The choicest variety of fresh vegetables arrived in a car from Colorado this week. Quality is above the average, and price is as low almost as that of home-grown stuff in the early spring months.

Excellent quality celery in abundance at 10 cents a bunch is a feature. Carrots are five cents a pound; green onions, five cents a bunch; Colorado beets, extra large and fine at five cents a pound.

Squash is five cents a pound; cauliflower, good quality, 12 1-2 cents a pound; cabbage, 3 1-2 cents a pound.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO FIX FENCES EARLY

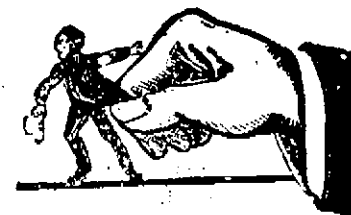

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Anticipating attacks on the constitutionality of wartime and constitutional prohibition enforcement legislation, Attorney General Palmer will prepare an opinion which will be transmitted to the White House before the bill becomes a law.

The struggles of 2 3-4 per cent beer to maintain a legal status will come to an end when the prohibition enforcement bill, the enactment of which was completed yesterday by congress, is made a law either by the president's signature or automatically if his illness prevents him from signing it within ten days.

Farmers Are Now Capitalists Says a Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Farmers already have had their status changed as a result of the National Round Table conference of capital and labor, employers and employees.

Instead of being included in the great middle class known as the general public, or among those definitely classified as the nation's workers, the farmer delegates emerged from the opening session of the conference as part and parcel of the capitalist employer group.

Perhaps it was because E. H. Gary, head of the U. S. Steel corporation, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., heir apparent to the Standard Oil crowd, were sitting "as representatives of the public" that it was decided the farmer delegates did not belong in the public group. Perhaps, too, because the majority of the tillers of the soil violate that primary requirement of organized labor—the 8-hour day—it was considered unwise to place them with the labor group.

What Will Folks Say?
However that may be, and whatever consideration guided it, the grouping of the farmers' representatives with the representatives of the National Industrial Conference Board, the Chamber of Commerce of the U. C. and the Investment Bankers association of America was as much of a surprise to the farmer delegates present as it will be to the folks back home.

Politics never made stranger bedfellows than some of the combinations that have been brought about in the organization of the round table conference. With John Spargo, busy-haired, radical Socialist, and dapper, well-groomed John D. Rockefeller, Jr., meeting as fellow representative of the public; and T. C. Atkeson, president of the National Grange, sitting as a fellow representative of capital with Frederick P. Fish of Boston, chairman of the National Industrial Conference Board and former president of the American telephone and Telegraph company, the conference starts off by breaking all prophecies and precedents.

When you say, "What's the price"

WHEN you come in here this Fall and pick out a suit and say to the salesman, "How much?"

He'll say "$40", perhaps, or maybe "$50" or "$60"—depends on the suit you choose.

You may say, "Why, I can beat that price $5 or $10."

Probably you can; but that isn't the point, you can't get as much clothes value for your money anywhere else; that $5 or $10 is in the suit; it's the $5 or $10 that makes good quality possible; and that makes the suit outwear the cheaper one two to one.

Hart Schaffner & Marx make the clothes and they guarantee satisfaction.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits $40, $42.50, $50 to $60
